PREFACE

An Index to thirty-six volumes of the International Journal of Comparative Sociology will be a helpful tool for bibliographical research, and will give an overview of important research in this field.

This Index consists of three elements:

- A numbered listing of authors, titles, volume numbers and page numbers with cross-references to main article number and main author name. Also, the type of paper is given: article, book review or research communication.
- An index on regions, with themes per region, referring to the article number.
- An index on themes, with regions per theme, referring to the article number.

We feel confident that readers of the International Journal of Comparative Sociology will find this Index an invaluable aid to their research. It will greatly facilitate access to good-quality papers. In view of its value for your research collection we have taken the liberty of sending the Index to you now as a supplement to your 1996 subscription of the International Journal of Comparative Sociology. We trust it will be of great use to you.

The International Journal of Comparative Sociology is issued twice a year, in June and December. Each number is about 160 pages in length. This journal, published by E.J. Brill, Leiden, presents a detailed and scholarly account of studies made in different cultures on a comparative basis, with a view to reaching a common level of abstraction, and thereby showing areas where cultural bias might be involved. The editor assumes responsibility for the selection and acceptance of articles, but responsibility for views expressed in them remains solely with their authors. Articles in the International Journal of Comparative Sociology do not represent the views of the Board of Editors or of York University.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE: The Journal welcomes contributions by anthropologists, sociologists and related social scientists. Manuscripts, items for research communications, and other editorial correspondence should be addressed to any one of the following editors:
